Course Overview

A recent survey showed that only 1 in 6 dentists treat non-vital cases in one appointment. However, numerous recent studies show that single visit treatment can be as successful, if not more so, than multiple visits. The advantages of one appointment endodontics are many for both the patient and the doctor. This hands-on course is designed for both general dentists and endodontists who wish to provide successful single visit endodontic treatment for their patients, on both vital and non-vital cases. Nickel-titanium rotary instrumentation techniques utilizing ZenFlex™ and ZenFlex™ ONE will be discussed along with all of its advantages. The management of curved and calcified canals will be outlined.
